

LEADERSHIP AND SERVICE ANTHOLOGY

Celebrating the great tradition of Ohio State leadership and service to others, the Center for Student Leadership and Service proudly publishes this collection of awards, honors, and memberships from the 2008-2009 academic year.

This publication serves to bring together the students, faculty, staff, programs, and student organizations that make a difference both in and out of the classroom. For the purposes of this historical record of achievements, leadership and service are defined broadly to encompass a wide variety of campus involvement, awards of distinction, community engagement, and academic aptitude.

Over 1,000 individual and organization honorees are listed in this year's Anthology, and all have been recognized at separate ceremonies and celebrations. This publication strives to showcase their collective successes, contributions, and achievements that have been accomplished across campus over the past year.

The Council of Graduate Students (CGS) is the official branch of student government that represents every graduate student at the main and branch campuses. It is the main purpose of CGS to work towards continual improvement of the graduate student experience at the Ohio State University.

Our competitive funding programs and "graduate-only" social events support the personal and professional development of any graduate students. The University's most involved and notable students participate in executive level functions of the university by serving as delegates to the Council or as senators to the University Senate.

Students further develop their skills in these areas by participating in a wide variety of leadership and service projects. Only 100 students are selected to be part of the program each year. PRESIDENT'S SALUTE TO UNDERGRADUATE ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

The President's Salute to Undergraduate Academic Achievement has become a special tradition at The Ohio State University. Each year, the colleges are asked to nominate a select group of undergraduates who are exemplary students, as demonstrated by their performance, curriculum and related experiences. The nomination of a student by his or her college is a high honor due to the very limited number of students selected for this recognition.

THE LEADERSHIP COLLABORATIVE

The First-year Leadership Collaborative (LC) was introduced in the fall of 2005 by the office of Undergraduate Admissions and First Year Experience. The centerpiece of the collaborative experience is a four-day/three-night conference held prior to the start of fall quarter classes. The conference focuses on identifying the strengths and qualities of leaders and on issues of ethical leadership. The program was conceived as an opportunity to seed the university's first-year class with students who have been immersed in an intensive leadership development experience with the hope that they would have a positive impact on the first-year class.
