

Welcome

Welcome to the Ohio Union! Since 1910, the Ohio Union has served as a unique facility full of history and Buckeye tradition. The original Ohio Union, now Enarson Hall, earned a spot in the record books serving as the first building of its kind on the campus of a public institution and only the fourth of its kind in the nation. The Ohio Union has served as a true hub of student life and student activity throughout its rich history. Each year, the building plays host to more than 15,000 events of all different types and sizes and sees at least 20,000 visitors through its doors daily. It can undoubtedly be viewed as the heartbeat of the university not only for students, faculty, staff, and alumni, but also as a welcome center for guests and visitors of The Ohio State University.
